

Head against the wall

Flying Sources in a floating row
Waiting for the K-Mart sale down below
A TV station from another zone
Million miles away, spoken language unknown
Sooner or later
I will chase the rain
An F5 twister in a cup of tee
Stirring the sugar with an old willow tree
The sky is red, the clouds scary poison-green
It's raining diamonds, what is that suppose to mean

Sooner or later
I will chase the rain
Sooner or later
I'll go insane

I bang my head against the wall
It's a big misery
I bang my head against the wall
Stupidity reigns on me
A haunting creep, no counting sheep
Never sleep, because
I bang my head against the wall
Till I can see

One day I took the train to the moon
Fasten your seatbelts we'll be there very soon
There I met John Doe and he gave me a sign
A dream is a dream your favourite waste of time
Sooner or later
I will chase the rain
Sooner or later
I'll go insane

I bang my head against the wall
It's a big misery
I bang my head against the wall
Stupidity reigns on me
A haunting creep, no counting sheep
Never sleep, because
I bang my head against the wall
It's a big misery
I bang my head against the wall
Stupidity reigns on me
A haunting creep, no counting sheep
Never sleep, because
I bang my head against the wall
Till I can see

Sooner or later I will chase the rain, go insane
Till I can see, is it really me
It's going on and on and on, what's going on Sooner or later, sooner or later.
